

Forging a Mission-Driven Training Strategy

Align. Structure. Evaluate.

Fire departments invest significant time in training—but is it making a real impact?

This free webinar introduces the Kirkpatrick Four Levels of Training Evaluation and a practical, mission-driven framework to align your department's training with real-world performance.

Learn how to evaluate not just whether training was completed or well received, but whether it's being applied on shift—and driving the outcomes your department needs.
